

NEW ORLEANS

REVISITED

MARCH 9-13, 2007

Of course, we weren't working here!

Our three-day project

With the guidance of Pastor Steve Meriwether and our own "crew chief," Dave Molkup, we were able to help with the remodeling of Sylvia Harbin's house by painting the interior walls and ceilings; installing doors and hardware; and painting and putting up the wood trim. We even spent some time outside priming an enclosed porch and Tracy made removing a small chainlink fence her own "personal project."

Oh ... there's more

Party Time

And these fabulous neighbors and Sylvia threw a party in honor of Share the Spirit! We were so surprised and delighted with the New Orleans-style food, music and hospitality!

There was even a banner!

Of course, there was time for some fun too!

... we couldn't let the days go by without visiting Bourbon Street and the French Quarter.

Dinner the last evening at Drago's

Pastor Steve recommended a great local restaurant that served grilled oysters. It was the perfect way to end a great trip!
